

Salisbury Community School News

REMINDER

This Wednesday, September 30th is an Early Release day. Students will be dismissed at 1 PM. Students riding the bus will be joining the Middle and High School students on their ride home. Students being picked up will be at the white hut in the upper parking lot. Parents are asked to "tag-the-grass" so we can keep students from crossing the parking lot. Some students will stay for an after school activity until 2:30PM.

Thank you to all the families for submitting their Early Release forms to us so we can know students' plans ahead of time and make certain they go where they are supposed to.

SAVE THE DATE!
Saturday, October 11th
Salisbury Community School Fall Festival, 2-4PM
Games, music, face painting, harvest dinner and more!

Organized by the Friends of Salisbury Community School

For the week of September 28, 2015

Hats Off to Days of Caring Volunteers!

On Thursday, September 24th, a group of students from Patricia Hannaford Career Center, including Salisbury former student, Jed Danforth volunteered to help the school with several projects. Donning their blue Days of Caring T-shirts and excited smiles, these high school students opened up the conservation trail, prepared science materials, helped in the kitchen, moved fallen apples to where the bees won't bother playing students and much more. With the guidance of the president of the Friends of Salisbury Community School, Jen Nuceder, these volunteers accomplished a lot of odd jobs.

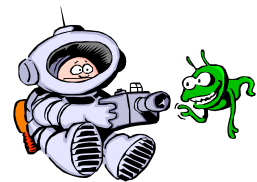

In addition, Dutton Smith, Paul Kenyon and Tom Noble offered their carpentry skills. With School Board Chair John Nuceder's guidance, they began work on a loft for the preschool classroom. Although the project could not be finished in a day, we are well on our way toward having a wonderful new space for our youngest students.

We are grateful for our volunteers, including the Nuceders! Their work and example of caring are a true gift to our students and our school.

Please keep the calendar of October Events is on the reverse side of this newsletter.

Spelling Bee

This Friday, October 2nd at 12:30PM, we will be hosting the Addison Central Supervisory Union. This will be our third year as the ACSU Spelling Bee Host School. Several elementary schools will be bringing a team of students. Superintendent Peter Burrows will be the Pronouncer. Our team is comprised of sixth graders Sophie Larocque and Izzy Smith and fifth graders Camila Blanco, Kegan Brown and Catherine Carpenter. Ms. Morrissey is their coach. Students have studied words from designated word lists and learned about Greek and Latin roots as part their preparation for the competition. The winner of the ACSU Bee will be invited to participate in a state competition.

Picture Day Friday, October 9th

See information packet enclosed with this newsletter.

